

The Simone de Beauvoir Institute invites you to the launching of the film:

The Raven's Gift

directed by Katherine Stenger Frey

The film reveals the spirit of the Arctic today through Ms. Frey's search for an Inuit storyteller who will tell her the myth of the Inuit Sea Goddess.

The storyteller turned out to be a surprise. Ms. Frey learned what the meaning of appropriation means to the Inuit but also discovered a new relationship to gender. She also found major changes in the North as the population adapts to the new communication technologies necessary for the proposed territory of Nunavut, which will receive its territorial status in 1999.

Katherine Stenger Frey was also the director of "Sanctuary of the Earth Goddess."

Wednesday, January 17, 1996 at 16h00

*The Lounge (MU-101)
Simone de Beauvoir Institute
Concordia University
2170 Bishop Street*

Information: 848-2373